

Three garden open house on Saturday, June 28 offers a great opportunity to learn A-Z about gardening in our area.

---

Our resident Anna's and migrating Rufous hummingbirds are an important part of our ecosystem helping control insects are great pollinators.

---

This winter, look at your garden's potential and where you can contribute to its winter beauty by adding a tree, shrub, or grasses.

---

Explore the benefits of using keystone plants to create a wildlife-friendly ecosystem in your own garden.

---

Learn about pollinators and open your eyes to the beauty and intricate connectivity of nature. As gardeners, we can make choices that will enhance or inhibit pollinators.

---

Join us for a day of discovery and learning at the Skagit Master Gardener's Discovery Garden in Mount Vernon